Plan to Bar Strikers.

As one means of breaking a strike, it is said, certain employers and manufacturers in some of the middle western states have entered into a pact—that is, the parties to the agreement will decline to employ workmen from factories where a strike is on, nor will they hire workmen from other employers' places of business at an advance in salary unless the applicant possesses a clearance card from his former employer.

The World Today.

The population of the world as given in the latest estimate is 1,440,050,000. It is a logical inference that the present population of the earth exceeds that of any former period.

Asparagus.

Asparagus was originally a wild seacoast weed of Great Britain and Russia and is now so plentiful on the Russian steppes that the cattle eat it like grass. In some parts of southern Europe the seeds are dried and used as a substitute for coffee.

Biliousness

"I have used your valuable Cascarets and find them perfect. Children do without them. I have used them for some time for indigestion and biliousness and am now completely cured. I can recommend them to everyone. Cascarets, you will never be without them in the family."—Edward A. Smith, Albany, N. Y.

The decline of the tea trade is viewed with alarm in China.

Italy has 230 convicts to the million inhabitants, which is the highest record.

Coffee plantations in bloom are snow white and exhale a delicious odor, but the blossoms die in a day.

Four thousand graves in South Africa of British soldiers who fell in the late war still remain unmarked.

A woman of twenty-five has been appointed grave digger, bell ringer and organist in the Danish town of Grenaa. She is the first grave digger in Denmark.

Saloon men near Bellevue hospital, New York city, object to a small drinking fountain which has been placed on the iron fence of the hospital by the woman's auxiliary of the Church Temperance society.

The house at Litchfield, Conn., in which Judge Tappan Reeve started the first law school in this country in 1774 has just been sold at auction to parties who will see that it is preserved for its historic value.

A nugget weighing five ounces which must have been passed over by wheeled traffic for years, has been found in the main street at Linton, near Ballarat, Australia, by one John Godden as he was returning from work.

The authorized life of McKinley, which Secretary of the Treasury George Bruce Cortelyou is expected to publish a few years hence, is intended to be the third of the martyred presidents which Nicolay and Hay's was to Lincoln.

A Phillips (Me.) young lady learned recently that sour milk will remove mildew from silk waists. So in a pan of sour milk her best waist was put and carefully set away. But her father meant that pan of sour milk for the pigs, and the girl later found remnants of the waist in the pign.

The work of arranging for the erection of a statue of Edwin M. Stanton, Lincoln's secretary of war, at Steubenville, O., his native town, is progressing favorably. The statue will be the first erected to Stanton, and the sculptor is Alexander Doyle of New York, who is a native of Steubenville.

An effort is being made in some parts of India to encourage the natives to kill the crocodiles which infest the large rivers. It is said that high prices can be obtained by selling the skins to American hide dealers and, at the same time, one of the dangers of Indian river life will be removed.

In South Africa a Chinese laborer is undergoing imprisonment for theft and desertion from the Johannesburg mines. During his trial he informed the magistrate that he left his work with the intention of walking home from Africa to China, and that he hoped to reach it by following the railway line.

The score of a hitherto unknown opera by Verdi has been found in a cabinet of old papers at the Villa Verdi, at Santa Agatha. Verdi in his will directed that the contents of the cabinet be destroyed. These were being examined when the score was found. It seems to be an early work of the composer.

Commander Robert E. Peary, U. S. N., has purchased of her Damariscotta owners the ancient pinky schooner Mary and will have her restored in an effort to perpetuate this vanishing style of craft. The Mary is strongly built and in good condition. She is the second oldest merchant vessel under the American flag, having been built at Portsmouth in 1811.

Feet contain much water, and in a newly patented process it is pressed with dry cement to form such materials as pipes, building blocks, etc. The water necessary for the hardening of the cement is drawn from the feet. This results in close union of the constituent parts, and the product is given great strength and resistance to atmospheric action.

They have a systematic way of dealing with rubbish in Germany. The sorting of house dust has been compulsory in Charlottenburg since April 1. The householder must provide three receptacles for refuse—namely, for ashes and sweepings, for cooking refuse and for industrial waste, such as paper and rags. The rubbish thus systematically sorted is then applied to various uses.

The model for the statue which is to be erected to the memory of the late Senator George F. Hoar by popular subscription from the people of Worcester, Mass., has been completed by the sculptor, Daniel Chester French, and it is expected in time for dedication next October. It will be erected on the common, somewhere in the vicinity of the city hall, Worcester.

The John Harvard house at Stratford-on-Avon has been restored through the instrumentality of an American beef packer's money and an English novelist's interest in Shakespeare's native town. Nelson Morris of Chicago bought the house some time ago and commissioned Marie Correll to supervise the restoration. The house is one of the most interesting of all the relics of Shakespeare's time.

V. Ford Greaves, who has been honorably discharged from the position of chief electrician of the United States navy, is honored by Admiral Evans as a man having no superior as a wireless electrician on board any ships of his fleet. At the time of the Kingston earthquake he received the transmitted wireless messages steadily for seventeen hours, when the apparatus broke down from the strain. This is the first occasion of the wireless being used to furnish the world with news.

Schubert.

One song of Schubert's, "The Wanderer," brought its publishers, between 1822 and 1861, upward of $18,000. By Schubert's request he was buried near Beethoven, both lying together in the cemetery at Vienna.

He Who Is Best Prepared Gets Best Results.

It is about time to plan for potato digging. Will we do it by hand this year, or buy one of the modern machines? I have on hand the Hallock O. K. Digger and the "Iron Age." One costs $75.00, the other $115.00. As soon as the potatoes are fit, I am going to have a public trial of these diggers on my early potatoes, at Sunnyside Farm, and shall buy and afterwards keep on sale the one doing the best work. I want every potato grower in this section to see this trial and help me decide on the merits of the machines. Will give notice in this space a day or two before the trouble begins.
